Begin Building New Sub-Division In Dorris Heights

OUR CHANGING PICTURE: Timmo got in the car and drove around a bit yesterday morning and I've come back with a report on a new subdivision, a new grocery going up, a new house getting ready to go up and a new paint job.

Out in Dorris Heights, not far from town, Kenneth Howell bought 11 acres between the Dorris Heights road and the LeRoy Barham place and has subdivided the ground, purchased from Fred Wilmoth, into 16 lots, each lot about 110 by 225 feet. The plan is to build better type homes and to sell them when built.

Plans right now are to build three of these houses, probably by next spring, and the first house will be completed in about three weeks, according to Louie Dalton, who is in charge of the project for Howell.

Howell, who lives in a beautiful home west of the city, plans eventually to put in a road running east and west through the acreage so that there can be three rows of houses, one row facing the Dorris Heights road and others facing this new road. All this will take time.

House No. 1 is a brick ranch house with three bedrooms and with garage attached. A tour thru it revealed a beautiful home of convenience.

Mr. Dalton said he plans to start next week on the foundation of House No. 2, which will face the road west of the brick structure. It will be of masonry and wood. House No. 3 will face the road to the east of the brick house and plans are to construct it of Bedford stone.

Mr. Dalton, who has built a number of houses in Dorris Heights and in town, said there still is some grading and other work to be done on the area besides the building of houses.

The first house is situated well back from the road, with plenty of front yard for landscaping. Apparently the others will be set back about the same distance.

CHARLES KURTO, who operates the grocery on the lot on West Poplar which the city has secured for a parking lot, is constructing a grocery store and fruit market building on Route 45 immediately south of Sloan street.

Kurto obtained a lease to this ground from Frank P. Parker a number of months ago, before any decision was reached to make a parking lot out of the area where his present store stands.

He is building a one-story frame building of 50 by 100 feet dimensions and will construct a store with lots of parking space, he said. There will be entrances both on Sloan street and Route 45, he added.

He has not set a date for completion of the building.

OLEN INGRAM'S big two-story house, damaged extensively by fire this past summer, has been razed and William Brown is now busy lowering the level of the lot by about three feet.

Ingram plans to build a split-level residence, part veneer and part frame, on the lot, and will continue with the six-unit Uptown motel at the rear.

NEW PAINT JOB is on the front and side of the Rainbow Rex all drug store, which is being coated with colors of orange and blue. This painting is adding glamour to the northwest corner of the square.

Indict Dio, 6 Others In Blinding Incident

NEW YORK — Johnny Dio, labor racketeer, and six other underworld figures were under federal indictment today on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

A grand jury which worked overtime Friday to return the indictment ruled that the defendants entered the conspiracy to scare off witnesses from testifying before another grand jury racket investigation.

Things Quiet at Sturgis But More Troops Arrive To Await Monday Classes

By JAMES R. RENNEISEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
STURGIS, Ky. — More troops rolled into the Sturgis High School grounds early today but the town was taking a week-end breather from its bitter race troubles.

National Guard troops and state police under the command of Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams, state adjutant general, were ordered into the town last Wednesday when a crowd of white townspeople formed at the school to object to integration of its schools.

Nine teenage Negroes entered the school Thursday morning while a battalion of Guardsmen, tanks and state patrolmen held a hostile, abusive mob of some 500 persons at bay with bayonets and firearms.

Although none of the nine Negroes showed up for Friday's classes, three of the Negro students indicated their intentions to return to classes on Monday, despite threats of physical violence and economic reprisals.

Shirley Beasley, 16, and her brother, James Beasley, 15, and Margaret Garnett, 14, said they would go back to the Sturgis school next week. The Beasley children live with a grandfather whose chief source of income is a social security check.

The Garnett girl's father is employed at the Poplar Ridge Mine near here.

The six others were undecided. All claimed that warnings that relatives would lose their jobs if they returned kept them away from school Friday.

Another anti-integration mob formed at Clay, Ky., a mining community some 11 miles southeast of here Friday morning. Two Negro grade school children intending to enroll at the Clay Elementary school turned back after seeing the angry gathering of some 100 persons in the school yard.

Salvation Army Plans Fund Drive

James Black to Head Campaign
Sept. 26 - Oct. 3

The annual drive for funds by the local unit of the Salvation Army will be held Sept. 26 to Oct. 3 with James Black in charge of the campaign.

The dates and the chairmen were decided upon at a meeting of the Salvation Army citizen's advisory board and Salvation Army officials, held at noon yesterday at Schriener's cafe.

Mr. Black operates the Egyptian Wholesale Co. at South McKinley avenue and Sloan streets.

With the Salvation Army badly in need of funds, the goal has been set for the same amount as last year, $5,000. Atty. John W. Biggers was chairman of last year's drive, during which the goal was reached.

Among those present yesterday were Major Cyril Everett, Public Relations director for the St. Louis division of the Army, and Mrs. Everett; and Lt. Mildred Wallace, one of the co-officers of the local post. The other officer, Lt. Marian Haldeman, is on vacation.

The two were assigned here recently to replace Lt. Andrew Sands and Mrs. Sands, who were transferred out of the state.

Lt. Wallace has been assisting at Joplin, Mo., and Lt. Haldeman has been assistant at Tower Grove, Mo. No. 1 Corps in St. Louis.

Yesterday the matter of publicizing the drive was discussed. There is a possibility that the well-known Salvation Army band from St. Louis can come to Harrisburg to help with the fund-raising.

Car Payment Worries Apparently Caused Family Tragedy

CHICAGO (U.P.) — A family was wiped out Friday because the father apparently was unable to keep up payments on his new car.

The bodies of Jack D. Adams, 22, his wife, Patricia, 21, and their 3-year-old son, Richard, were found dead of bullet wounds in their Chicago apartment Friday.

Adams' sister, Mrs. Jean Bowlin, who discovered the dead family, said her brother had been worrying about how to meet the $89 per month payments on his new car.

Authorities said Adams apparently shot his wife and son while they were sleeping, and then fired one bullet into his own temple.

The president, Louis Aaron, announced that Evangelist Bernie Smith, a former announcer at radio station WBBQ, had recently given the society a number of valuable papers, pictures and letters.

Officers Lean To Theory of Kidnap-Killing

Await Laboratory
Test Results on Ruotolo Baby Organs

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP
United Press Staff Correspondent
HAMDEN, Conn. — The state's attorney office receives today the report on the laboratory analysis of the vital organs of Cynthia Ruotolo, who disappeared from her carriage and was found dead floating on a lake.

Contents of the report were expected to reveal the cause of her death which authorities believe to be a kidnap-murder.

The six-week-old baby was buried this morning in nearby New Haven. Her brief-stricken father, Stephen, 33, who was too distraught to identify her body may not attend the Roman Catholic graveside services.

Lab Tests Complete

State's Attorney Abraham S. Ullman said Friday night he was notified of completion of laboratory analysis by the FBI in Washington.

Police have indicated they are again concentrating their investigation on the theory that the baby's kidnaper was a stranger to her family. Mrs. Eleanor Ruotolo, 29, the infant's mother, had been questioned intensively after Cynthia's body was found floating in a plastic bag on Lake Whitney near Hamden Thursday.

The questioning was caused by discrepancies between Mrs. Ruotolo and that of a neighbor, Mrs. Helen Rebutti, in their accounts of their shopping trip at a department store last Saturday, the day Cynthia disappeared.

Mrs. Ruotolo, other members of the family, friends and a doctor made positive identification after Ruotolo was unable to look closely at the body.

Coke Truck Overtakes And Is Demolished; J. D. Walton Injured

J. D. Walton, of Ledorf, a driver for the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Harrisburg, was injured, his truck is a total loss and about 150 cases of bottles were destroyed in an accident Friday afternoon.

It is reported that Walton was returning to the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in Harrisburg and about a mile south of Ledorf on Route 45 a car started to turn off the highway and to avoid hitting the automobile, Walton swerved across the highway and ran into a ditch. His truck turned completely over and probably would have flipped again, but it came to rest against a tree.

Walton suffered lacerations on the face and body. His injuries were not considered serious. He was an overnight patient in the Harrisburg hospital.

Tom Wolf of the local bottling company stated there were 150 cases of bottles on the truck, including 130 cases of empties and 20 cases filled. All the bottles were destroyed, it is reported.

Two Killed, Two Hurt When Car Smashes Tree

HENRY, Ill. — Two men were killed and two others were injured early today when their car missed a curve and crashed off the road into a tree on Ill. 18 one mile east of here.

One of the dead was Glen Schmitt, 32, Henry. State police tentatively identified the other victim as John Schmitt, Putnam, an uncle of Glen.

Last Chance For Nasser Compromise

By WILBUR LANDREY
United Press Staff Correspondent
CAIRO — The five-nation Suez committee gave President Gamal Abdel Nasser a last chance today to compromise on the Suez Canal issue. But Egyptian sources said it was unlikely Nasser would alter his stand.

The committee headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert Gordon Menzies expected to see Nasser at least once more before it returns to London while the feeling grew it would be only for a formal leave-taking before the talks flounder to an end.

The committee itself called a meeting for today to wind up its Cairo mission. The prospects were gloomy for success though it was reported the committee would once more try to "face lift" the Dulles plan for a last try.

Committee sources said it appeared that only a "miracle" could turn the mission from failure to success. A spokesman denied saying the talks had been "completely broken off" but he admitted the statement was perilously close to truth.

The newspaper Akhbar Al Yom, published by Hassanien Heikal, a personal friend of Nasser's, quoted authoritative Egyptian sources today as saying the Menzies committee has "carried out its mission which was presenting and explaining the viewpoints of the governments delegating the committee."

Declares Favors Laws for Areas with Chronic Problems

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.) — Adlai Stevenson said today that Congress should give top priority to legislation to help areas with "chronic" unemployment problems.

The Democratic presidential candidate said "serious pockets of depression have developed" in many of the nation's industrial and mining areas, including southern Illinois.

He said Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) introduced legislation "to help communities with chronic unemployment to help themselves," but the Douglas bill "got buried" in the last session of Congress.

"I won't go into the details of that on this non-partisan occasion," Stevenson said. "But its passage seems to me one of the most important items on Congress's agenda when it is reconvened."

Stevenson was scheduled to fly here today from Chicago, for a "homecoming" in the state capital, where he served as governor from 1949 to 1953.

From Springfield, Stevenson planned to fly to Columbus, to address the Ohio Democratic state convention later today, and then to New York City tonight for an eastern campaign tour.

TOKYO (U.P.) — The most violent North Pacific typhoon in seven years battered Okinawa with winds of 128 miles an hour today and dumped 15 inches of rain on the suffering island. Gusts of 156 mph were registered.

Communications with the outside world were crippled, delaying reports on damage and casualties. The 40,000 American troops and their families were believed safe in their concrete anti-typhoon shelters, but heavy loss of life was feared among Okinawans.

The typhoon, nicknamed Emma was moving slowly northward toward Japan and authorities feared a major disaster. The last big typhoon to hit Japan two years ago took 1,500 lives and wrought havoc to fishing boats and flimsy villages.

Floods Hit Manila

The Philippines capital of Manila, which received only fringe gales, reported three-quarters of the city flooded. Traffic was paralyzed with water a foot deep in main thoroughfares. Businesses and homes were flooded.

The 2,000-ton Formosan freighter Eddie ran aground off northern Luzon and was reported sinking but the 103 persons aboard were believed rescued by a Philippines ship which reached its aid through heavy seas.

A report from Okinawa island command headquarters at 2 a. m. Saturday — five hours before Emma reached maximum fury — told of high winds. Winds of more than 110 miles an hour were still pummeling Okinawa at noon.

Barometer at Record Low

The Naha civilian weather station clocked gusts at the maximum limit of its gauges — 156 miles per hour. The barometer was at the lowest (.936 millibars) since the station was founded. That was the 7th lowest reading in Japanese history.

On the big American bases on Okinawa hospital patients and women expecting babies within two weeks were moved into a sturdy dispensary and gymnasium. Others huddled in storm shelters and typhoon-resistant buildings.

The island's 600,000 civilians were less fortunate. Most could only board up windows and hope. Others sought refuge in concrete school buildings.

Heavy damage to the flimsy houses of Okinawa farmers and villagers along the west coast was believed inevitable.

Watch for Stomach Worm Buildup In Your Sheep

DIXON SPRINGS—Watch out for stomach worms in your sheep this summer.

M. E. Mansfield, extension veterinarian on the staff of the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois, says stomach worms can build up in sheep on pasture even though they were drenched with phenothiazine in the spring.

Phenothiazine will give positive control, Dr. Mansfield says, but you should not expect one drench to kill all the worms. You can help to prevent stomach worm infestation by keeping a 1 to 10 mixture of phenothiazine and salt before the animals at all times on pasture. Rotating pasture also helps to hold down worm buildup.

Stomach worms may be building up if your sheep do not gain on good pasture, or if you find a shabby look to the fleece, diarrhea, weakness and occasional deaths.

Keeping the ewes free from parasites and in good, thrifty condition will help you to get a more uniform lamb crop next winter, the veterinarian points out. Worm-free lambs this summer will get to market faster, too. And don't forget that the rams need to be free of worms and in good condition for top performance.

Gov't to Buy Surplus Turkey, Hamburger Beef This Fall

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department today announced it will buy surplus turkeys and hamburger beef to bolster market prices this fall.

The department also said it will buy eggs in the open market if this seems necessary to stabilize prices.

It said it will buy about 50 million pounds of boneless hamburger beef to help cattle producers, especially those marketing cattle fattened on grass.

Officials said no limit for the turkey purchase program had been announced yet. They pointed out that the 1956 turkey crop is a record high, estimated at about 16 per cent above the 1955 crop.

The turkey, hamburger, and eggs—if any eggs are purchased—will be distributed to school lunches and other eligible non-profit institutions.

The fall apple picking time has arrived. The calendar shows it still is summer—but orchardists in the south end of Illinois have been picking Jonathan apples for a week or more. Jonathans are the first of the principal commercial varieties of fall apples that go to market. Soon other varieties will reach the harvesting stage, and before we realize it autumn will be at hand.

Picking apples at a definite stage of development is important, says James B. Mowry, superintendent of the Illinois Horticultural Experiment Station at Carbondale (jointly operated by the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University). The grower must take into consideration the eating quality, the storage capacity, and the commercial value of the apples in deciding on the time to pick.

If he picks the apples before they are mature they will lack a natural color and size, be poorly flavored and tough. They will be susceptible to bitter pit and scald. On the other hand, if the apples become overmature before they are picked they may be mealy, poorly flavored, and subject to water core, soft scald and internal breakdown of flesh.

How do you decide when the right time to pick has arrived? Mowry says there are several criteria for recognizing maturity.

One is the ease with which the fruit separates from the spur. If it comes off without breaking the apple stem when lifted and rotated slightly, it is time to pick the fruit if the crop is to be saved. It isn't an absolute indication of maturity because the ease of separation varies with different varieties of apples, but this test will serve the purpose.

Dropping fruit is usually an indication of maturity, but this varies. McIntosh and Delicious often drop before they are mature, but Jonathan and Staygreen often will hang on the trees until they are overmature. If a few sound apples are dropping and similar fruit is easily picked, it is time to harvest. Wormy and injured apples usually drop early, so these must be ignored. Of course, if the grower has sprayed the fruit with a growth regulator to make the fruit stick longer, he cannot use the dropping or ease-of-picking sign to tell when the fruit is mature.

A pressure tester may be used to measure the decreasing firmness of the flesh as the fruit matures. This instrument has value in determining when fruit is in good condition for storage.

Some persons consider seed color in determining when apples are mature, but Mowry says this is not a very reliable characteristic because the seed color differs considerably from season to season and also from variety to variety.

Look to the ground color of the fruit for the real test of apple maturity, he says. When change is from green to a greenish-yellow the apple is mature. A couple of problems come up here, too. For example, such varieties as McIntosh, Jonathan and Cortland may begin dropping rather heavily before they attain this color change, while some of the red sports may become so completely red before they are mature that the ground color is obscured. However, pleasing color is highly important for the sale of apples in the retail markets and the experienced orchardists usually strive to meet this demand.

Size, Utility, Balance For Kitchen Utensils

Size, utility and balance are important items to consider when buying kitchen utensils.

Size is usually given on the utensil or the label. The results of your recipe may depend a great deal on the size of cooking utensils. If pans are too large, food may not brown properly; and if too small—then you know the results.

Baking pans should fit your oven. To obtain the best circulation of heat, they should not touch the sides of the oven or other pans in the oven.

Select top-of-the-range pans to cover the size of the burner so that heat will be evenly distributed.

Many utensils are adapted to more than one type of cooking. Casseroles often double as baking and serving dishes.

If the weight is properly balanced, the utensils won't tip when empty. Check to see that the handle is firm and won't slip in your hand when the utensil is full.

Careless Insecticide Use Dangerous

Careless users of insecticides often endanger their lives. They either fail to read labels or disregard cautions listed on labels. The risk varies with the insecticide.

The most hazardous insect killers, says Dr. C. W. Kearns, toxicologist at the University of Illinois, are the organic phosphate compounds, such as parathion and tetraethyl pyrophosphate (TEPP). These compounds are very volatile and you should avoid breathing the vapors or letting them contact your skin. Wear protective clothing and a full-face mask with canister when using them.

The chlorinated hydrocarbons, such as chlordane, lindane, aldrin and dieldrin, are classed as an intermediate group. These are cumulative poisons, but they are not so dangerous as the organic phosphate compounds.

The least hazardous insecticides to use, he said, are DDT, methoxychlor and malathion. Only DDT in an oil solution is dangerous, as it is absorbed by the skin.

Kearns warns all insecticide users to wash hands and face with soap and water before eating and to bathe or shower after work. The danger always exists, he said. A person may exercise great care when first using an insecticide, but upon experiencing no ill effect he may become more and more careless.

He urges all users of insecticides to read the label on each container carefully, note its warnings and instructions and follow them. Never guess. If you are not sure, reread them and make sure.

Always store insecticides in a special place under lock, away from food, and out of reach of children and irresponsible persons.

Farm Bureau Plans Own Building

For some time the Board of Directors has been considering the idea of the Farm Bureau having a building of its own, and at their August 11th meeting the Building Committee was instructed to secure the services of an architect to draw up plans and make an estimate of the costs of a suitable building.

When the Saline County Farm Bureau was organized in 1917, the main function was to sponsor extension work and about the only space needed was an office for the Farm Adviser and a secretary. When the Illinois Agricultural Association was put on a sound basis in 1919, and they later began setting up insurance and other service companies, the Farm Bureau's requirement for space began to expand. In 1948, in order to keep all the service organizations housed together, it became necessary to rent the building which we now occupy.

Farm people realize the advantages of ownership, and our members are very complimentary of the decision of the Board of Directors.

munity affairs since going to West Frankfort from Johnston City 13 years ago. They have a daughter, Helen.

Woman's Missionary Society
Holds Regular Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Church of God met Thursday evening at the church.

The service began with the group singing the songs "Rescue the Perishing" and "I Cannot Be of Miss Pat Moore and Miss Janet Fisher, sang "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow."

Mrs. Muriel Holland read the secretary-treasurer's report.

The subject for the worship service, under the direction of Mrs.
Bess Aldridge, was "Doors," with scripture from John 10:9. She concluded her devotion with the statement that one door leads to all good things in life—that is the door to Christ.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs.
Layton Aldridge. Plans were made for a sewing circle and prayer band to meet once each week and plans were also made concerning various money-making projects for the next few months.

Mrs. Clifford Curtis gave the lesson for this month, entitled "Mission Field, U. S. A." The group

er.

History of Muddy Discussed at Meeting

a love of music and distinction in musical performance instilled in the hearts of the pupils and residents.

A discussion was also made on how the immigrant families from Italy, Hungary and other Slavic countries, had contributed richly to music from their old world heritage. Neal and Edward Foster gave their account of Eddie Miller's contribution to music and told how he had played with them in Foster's band.

Neal Foster told of his violin making, one of which, a bass violin made in 1934, was unusual, believing three fourths the standard size.
He stated that he had repaired an old violin made in 1555 which belonged to a music instructor at Murray College, Ky. This old violin was so valuable that its owner carried several thousand dollars insurance on it.

Churches of Muddy

The present Muddy churches are the Baptist, which began in a miners' local union hall, the present building being erected much later, about 1920; the Church of God which was established about 1920, and the Creek Orthodox church which began as the immigrants commenced settling at Muddy about 1900. This church now has a membership of six and is ministered by Rev. Popoff of Royalton.
The Kertis family of Muddy belongs to this church.

The mines opened about 1906 and the immigrants came in, bringing a knowledge of fine grape vineyards from the old world. According to John Molinarolo Sr. his father planted the first, a vineyard of seven acres. In 1909 Mrs. Mo-linarolo and three sons came to Muddy to live. In 1913 more acres were added to the vineyard. Others were started and they prospered until the black rot, which plagued the homeland's grapes, began. Spraying of the fruit was begun and it continues to this time.

The large number of former vineyards has fallen to four in number at present, but this area has provided some of the nation's finest vineyards in the past.

A coke oven was established there in 1918 and lasted for seven or eight years. Mr. Helmholtz of Chicago operated it and A. W. Summers was the manager. This coke oven was operated for experimental purposes.

WHAT'S COOKING?

It's fun to mix a lot of things and wonder how they'll "turn out." It's fun until you try to eat your own "extra-special" muffins. Then you wish you had used Mommy's old-fashioned recipe.

Thousands of parents are sharing today the disillusionment that is in store for our little cook—but on a more bitter scale. As juvenile offenders are herded into our police stations, courts and reformatories, heart-broken parents watch and wonder. What did they do wrong? Why didn't Johnny turn out to be a boy they could be proud of?

When you try to answer those questions you can't help but recall the old-fashioned recipe for raising children. It calls for generous portions of prayer, family worship, church attendance. But more than eight million children are growing up today without ANY religious training.

When the church bells ring on Sunday morning, remember; the future of our nation, the character of our children, is at stake.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Source of Human Conflict'

James 3:4-5; 4:1-12
GOLDEN TEXT: "Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin." (Hebrews 12:4)
INTRODUCTION: There is unrest and discension everywhere. You will find strife and combat in many homes. Trouble brews in many churches. Nations rise up against one another at the drop of a hat.

What is the matter? Wherein lies the fault? Who is to blame? Is the other fellow always wrong? Is your companion in the home always at fault? Are all the other nations absolutely and completely wrong, and is yours always absolutely and completely right?

The lesson scripture for this Sunday holds some answers to all these questions. What a wonderful thing it would be if national leaders from all nations would read and take to heart these verses. How really fine it would be if every troubled husband and wife would do the same. Many a home would be saved, and even great wars could be averted.

I SOME CAUSES OF CONFLICT (3:4-5; 4:1-6)

Be careful now how you read what James says here. You are apt to become angry with him, because you are going to find yourself guilty. What really causes conflict?

1. YOUR TONGUE—"The tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth." Your tongue is here compared to the small helm which turns a great ship. My! what a truth is here stated. One person's tongue can set a whole town to gossiping. One little tongue can cause splits in churches, broken friendships, ruined characters, and can even set nations at each other's throats.

2. SELFISHNESS—"You want your way. In fact, you will have your way, or else! What is the result? Conflict! If you can't have your way in the church you will see to it that no one else has his way. Result? Conflict! One nation says: "We will have things done our way, or else! Result? Conflict."

3. SINFULNESS—What sin? You name it, and know that the end of that sin is conflict and death. Drinking, gambling, adultery, murder, lying, stealing, covetousness.

(love of money); they are all in the same category. Anything that you put ahead of God in your life will bring conflict.

II SOME REMEDIES FOR CONFLICT (4:7-12)

Look out, now. Do not claim to be something you are not. That makes you a hypocrite. Can you honestly say that you are even attempting to do these things:

1. RESISTING SATAN — Don't you recognize him? Oh! he does not have horns and a tail. He comes dressed in the latest fashions. Did you not recognize him just before you disobeyed God that last time? He may have come in the form of a handsome man or beautiful woman. He may have been in a very attractive bottle. Oh! that old boy is sharp. He is sly. Now that you recognize him, have you honestly been trying to resist him?

2. SEEKING PURITY — "Draw nigh unto God, and He will draw nigh unto you." He will cleanse you for the asking. Have you sought the purifying power of God? Have you asked him to help you to overcome that temptation. He will, if you ask Him!

3. HUMBLE YOURSELF — This is so hard to do! It just takes all there is of you to accomplish this. Like a little child coming to a parent, you have to come humbly to God, the Father. But, oh, the rewards! He will bless you and take away all the conflicts.

4. GENTLE TONGUE—Yes, this means you. God does not want you to keep silent. He wants you to speak out against sinful practices and immoralities. However, He does not want you to use your tongue for gossiping, back-biting, tattling, or swearing. Use your tongue to glorify God.

CONCLUSION—If you will give God His rightful place in your life, your personal conflicts will disappear. If your home puts God first, there will be no conflicts in your home. If nations will only turn to God, all conflicts will cease and there will be "peace on earth and good-will toward men."

Dear L.I. Abner Readers:

Do you like the Republican and Democratic candidates? Of course you do! You don't want them to be humiliated by being licked by Bullmoose in the election.

Here's how to spare them this shame:

1. If you are abnormal, have criminal tendencies, or are against progress, write me a letter saying you don't want me for President, on the deep freeze ticket.
2. I will count these few miserable letters, and deduct the paltry total from the mass of fine, thinking Americans who, I am sure, will express their preference for President in the usual way—by not doing anything.
3. I will then show the other two candidates the results. They can then withdraw, and avoid bitter humiliation on election morning.

General Bullmoose

Just fill this out and send it on to General Bullmoose.

Dear General Bullmoose:

I am against you for President because:—

To Sell 300 Reserved Seats for Home Tilts

For public convenience, 300 reserved seats will be offered for home football games, HTHS Principal Eltis F. Henson announced today. Sale will begin Monday at the high school and the Athletic House.

Mr. Henson said they first will be offered on a seasonal basis, for the four home games, and if any are left they will be sold for individual games.

There are about 1,750 seats in the stadium, where the reserved seats will be sold. Besides the stadium, there are bleachers which will accommodate about 700 or 800.

Carter's Victory Makes Him Serious Title Contender

NEW YORK (AP) — Young Harold Carter's threat as a heavy-weight contender seemed more dangerous today because of the lop-sided, turn-table beating he gave tall Johnny Summerlin in their return television bout Friday night.

Managing Director Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club said, "Carter's first main-event performance at Madison Square Garden established him as a threat. We'll match him with another contender as soon as possible, certainly within two months."

Carter, the 22-year old Sunday school teacher from Linden, N. J., who is ranked eighth among contenders, gave ninth-rated Johnny of Detroit such a one-sided beating that he won the unanimous decision by a 9-1, 9-1, 6-3-1 vote in rounds.

Legion Nine to Play Games Here Tonight, Tomorrow Afternoon

Tonight at 7:30 the Harrisburg Legion baseball team will play the strong Murphysboro Red Wings and then Sunday will oppose the Evansville Tigers at 2 p. m. Both games will be played on the VFW Memorial Field.

Murphysboro has an outstanding team with a record of 20 victories and only two defeats for this season.

Evansville also has a good team and against strong competition this season has won 22 games while dropping 12.

The Legion team has won 12, lost 12 and tied one game this year.

Top hitters for the Legion in the 25 games played are: Merle Dailley .421, Harold Gully .352, Bill McNew .351, Dick Odle .343 and Ronnie Zeigler .333.

Don Stout will be on the mound tonight with McNew his receiver.

Harrisburg players are asked to report for practice at 6:15 this evening.

Conviction Upheld

John and Priscilla Mullins Alden had 11 children. Among their descendants were Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, William Cullen Bryant, and John Quincy Adams.

Reds Hit Goal Line 6 Times In Scrimmage

Bull Dogs Practice Last Night Under Taylor Field Lights

The Reds and the Whites of the Harrisburg Bull Dogs football squads practiced under the lights at Taylor Field, and the Reds, which had all the boys who are experienced in varsity play, romped to six touchdowns during the scrimmage.

The Whites, composed of some juniors up from last year's Bull Pup team, plus a lot of sophomores, a number of whom probably will be sent to the Bull Pup squad next week, did not cross the goal line although at times the lads showed up well against their more experienced opponents.

Coach Ben Channess directed the Reds and Coach Hal Killebrew the Whites. Head Coach Lawrence Caluffetti took notes from the press box.

Summing up the session, it can be said that it was something that was needed by the boys, and although there are a few bright spots, in general there is a definite lack of experience. Most of the boys tried hard enough, however, which is always pleasing to a coach.

The Reds started Henshaw and Fulkerson at ends, Hassett and Vick at tackles, Williams and Aldridge at guards, Buchanan at center, Cummins at quarterback, Whiteside and Don Biggs at halfbacks and Ziegler at fullback, with Wathen at end, Sheldon at tackle, Kane at defensive back, Bryant at tackle, Roberts at guard, Stallings at end and Winters at guard also seeing action.

For the Whites the starters were Logan and Yates at ends, Martin and Maynard at tackles, Fischer and Darrel Biggs at guards, Simpson at center, Clark at quarterback, Martin and Dalton at halfbacks and Price at fullback. Others seeing action were Pavelonis at quarterback, Furlong and Fleming at halfbacks, Pickford and Hipes at tackle, Leverte, Endsley and Barnhill at guards.

The Reds scored first when Hassett grabbed a fumbled punt and raced about 30 yards to score. Whiteside ran for the second, Ziegler smashed for the third, a Biggs-to-Henshaw pass, a long one, was good for the fourth, Ziegler intercepted a pass near midfield to race for the fifth, and a short pass, Cummins to Henshaw, was good for the sixth. Ronnie Vick place-kicked three extra points.

The season opens here against Murphysboro Friday night.

Northwestern Has Two Fine Backs for Big Ten Grid Race

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern would have a successful season if it could only finish in the first division in the Big Ten grid chase. But the Wildcats might turn up two of the sharpest breakaway runners in the league.

Sophomore Wilmer Fowler, Mansfield, Ohio, already has virtually clinched the starting left halfback job and has sparked in early drills with his speedy dodging runs going the distance frequently from well out.

A returned serviceman, Bob McKiever, could take over the other halfback spot to give new coach Ara Parseghian scoring threats from each post. McKiever, too, has been a standout in early workouts, showing signs of fulfilling the promise he displayed in high school before he left the Wildcat campus for military service.

Even with these runners, though, the Wildcat lineup was uncertain and Parseghian wanted to keep it that way. With this in mind he has shuffled his lineup steadily and expects to keep it up.

Overall, the Wildcats will be fairly good-sized with fair speed. But Northwestern faces a seven-game Big Ten schedule, missing only Iowa and Michigan State.

Brooklyn Pulling Up in Hot N. L. Race, Mizell Shuts Out Redlegs at St. Louis

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

A perfectly good pennant is going begging in the National League today and since Milwaukee and Cincinnati are both playing you take it, big Don Newcombe is putting in a strong one-man bid for Brooklyn.

As the race now stands, it's still anybody's flag with the Redlegs and Dodgers tied for second place, a game-and-a-half behind the Braves.

For awhile Friday all three contenders played a game of fiddle, fumble and flounder. Milwaukee dropped a 5-0 decision to Chicago, Cincinnati lost 1-0 to St. Louis and the Dodgers were defeated by the Giants, 6-2, in the opener of a two-night doubleheader.

Then along came Newcombe in the nightcap with near peerless piece of pitching that earned him his 23rd victory with an 11-inning 3-1 triumph over those arch-rival Giants.

Newcombe gave up only six hits and didn't walk a man in becoming the first Brooklyn pitcher to win more than 22 games since Hall of Famer Dazzy Vance set the club record of 28 triumphs in 1924. Carl Furillo's 18th homer with one on off Dick Littlefield provided the winning margin.

Mays Homers Twice

Willie Mays, an old Dodger thorn, hammered his 28th and 29th homers in helping southpaw Johnny Antonelli to his 15th victory and his third in a row over the Dodgers in the opener. Carl Erskine, who yielded the Giants' first three runs, suffered his ninth loss.

Vinegar Bend Mizell supplied the pitching and Ken Boyer the hitting in the Cardinals' victory over the Redlegs. Mizell hurled a two-hitter for his 13th triumph, while Boyer slammed his 22nd homer in the seventh inning to send Joe Nuxhall down to his ninth defeat. Nuxhall gave up only two hits before Boyer's blast.

Sam Jones of the Cubs handed the Braves their fourth straight loss, limiting them to seven hits as his teammates routed loser Bob Buhl with a four-run rally in the sixth inning. Doubles by Ernie Banks, Walt Moryn and Pete Whisenant featured Chicago's uprising. It was Jones' eighth victory and Buhl's seventh loss.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies, still striving to end up with 20 victories, evened his season record at 16-16 with a 5-2 triumph over the Pirates. Home runs by Lee Walls and Frank Thomas in the fourth inning accounted for Pittsburgh's only runs off Roberts, who struck out seven and walked none. Solly Hemus homered for the Phils. Bob Friend was charged with his 15th loss against the same number of victories.

In the American League, the Senators overcame a four-run deficit to defeat the Yankees, 6-5, but the Bronx Bombers retained their 9½ game lead as the White Sox nipped the second-place Indians, 2-1.

Homers by Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra staked Johnny Kucks to a four-run lead but he couldn't hold it. Ernie Oravetz' pinch double tied the score in the eighth inning and he came home with the winning run on a fielder's choice. Reliever Bucky Stewart was the winner and Tom Morgan the loser.

Lemon Misses 200th

Jack Harshman of the White Sox thwarted Bob Lemon's bid for the 200th victory of his career as he limited the slumping Indians to four hits for his 13th triumph. Nellie Fox's triple in the seventh inning scored Luis Aparicio with the winning run.

Skinny Brown snapped Baltimore's five-game losing streak with a six-hit 5-0 victory over Boston in the second game of a two-night twin bill after the Red Sox took the opener, 7-5, in 10 innings.

Baltimore outfielder Bob Nieman hit safely in both games to run his hitting streak to 20 straight games, a new record for the Orioles. Jackie Jensen's 10th inning single snapped a 5-5 tie in the opener. Jim Piersall homered for Boston.

The Detroit Tigers scored five runs in the third inning and five more in the eighth to beat the Kansas City Athletics, 12-8. Southpaw Billy Hoft gained his 17th victory although he needed relief in the seventh inning. Harvey Kuenn batted in four runs for the Tigers while Hal Smith drove in five for the Athletics. Lou Kretlow suffered his ninth loss.

Seixas Only American Left in U. S. Tennis Meet; 3 Aussies Remain

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP) — It's up to Vic Seixas today to keep the Australians from grabbing both places in the finals of the U. S. tennis championship.

The 33-year old Philadelphian, criticized earlier as "over the hill," is the last American against three Australians in the semifinals. His personal foe today is the toughest of his entire career—canny Ken Rosewall — but Vic already has proved in three five-set matches in the last seven days that he can't be counted out.

The other semi-final is all-Australian with slugging ace Lew Hoad matched against left-handed Neale Fraser, who dumped Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., with unexpected ease Friday.
